

TRADING LICENSE

v 1.0

I'd like to try a casual game with the Workbook Partials series. Instead of insisting on strict copyright limitation on these booklets, I'll just give them out to individuals, encouraging you to trade it further. If you like what you see in this issue, collecting the rest relies on doing the trading game with others. Discover new friends, maybe!

I hereby grant you the reader permission to barter this issue of the Workbook Partials to other people provided it's personal, reciprocal and not compensated monetarily. Specifically:

Personal: Transact individually, not automatically. Virtual connection is OK, but you should encounter your trading partner as an individual, even if in passing.

Reciprocal: You gain something in exchange. No giving it up for free. Trade it for a missing issue, hugs or participation in your game, maybe.

Barter: Do not exchange it for money. That just takes the fun out of the exercise. If anybody's going to set up a PTW scheme for this trading game, it should be me.

All of the above is intended as a suggestion and a one-sided extension of your rights vis-a-vis copyright law; there is no implication of contractually curtailing any legal rights you enjoy anyway, such as fair use or private copy rights.
